E! Entertainment Online featured DreamAuthentics' Eladius cabinet on its segment titled "Money to Burn: Game On!"

"The 21st century's answer to the classic video arcade, the Eladius is designed to replicate the Reagan-era arcade experience, from authentic joysticks and controls right down to an original, mint-condition, big-screen arcade monitor. Take that Sony Playstation! … But the Eladius cabinet is no old-fashioned video dinosaur, it also doubles as an MP3 jukebox, DVD movie display and fully-equipped customizable computer work station."
